First came the eyes, lifelike even to the extent of the unnecessary red lines. The nose was flat and in the wrinkle of his neck were the rosebud bowlike lips of a chorus girl. Presently the stage manager announced that "Janitor Joe, the only Januformity, Janus faced and Janus headed and garbed in Janus cloth" would be the next performer. Eloy stepped the footlights and the audience hooted "Get the hook!"

After five minutes of "Get the hook!" Eloy gave up trying to sing his song and went up stage for the centre exit. The spectators caught sight of his back face spectators caught sight of his back face and cheered madly. Coins began to fall on the stage, and Eloy, loath to leave the copper shower, attempted to walk up the street on the back drop. This brought forth more pennies and even nickels. For fear that quarters would be thrown the management rang down the curtain. Foley picked up the money on the stage. He was so pleased with his success that he grabbed his derby and rushed out the stage door.

Calls on Ohio Democrats to Help Him Continue to Hunt for Graft and Make Sure of a Democratic Senator From Ohio-Defects in Tariff Law.

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 24 .- Gov. Harmon, n his opening speech of the campaign at Canton, O., to-day, appealed to the voters of Ohio to reelect him and also a Democratic Legislature, so he can continue his "State House graft" investigation and send a Democratic Senator from Ohio in place of Senator Dick. He made no direct reference to President Taft, but enlarged upon the alleged extravagance of a Republican Congress and the dissatisfaction over the tariff bill, charging that the people were deceived by "slight reductions where they would give the people no relief but furnish the basis for a misleading use of figures, and pretended reductions really became increases."

A crowd estimated from 8,000 to 15,000 was present at the official opening of the campaign. State Chairman Hugh L. Nichols presided and the presence of Mrs. Harmon and the wives of the other candidates created much enthusiasm.

Gov. Harmon said in part: "The selection of men to conduct the usiness of the State does not properly involve a consideration of national affairs and should not be made to do so. Good government in Ohio is necessary in order that she may keep her high rank in the sisterhood of States and be able to do her full share in maintaining the well-being of the Union. To secure this with being of the Union. To secure this with certainty the voters should look at the State situation only National questions are to be dealt with, however, in choosing members of Congress, which justifies a brief reference to them here.

"Congress is now appropriating $1,000,-000,000 at each session, every cent of which is levied on the people of the country by taxation in some form. And it is con-fessed that extravagance and mismanage-ment cause a waste of no less than $300 000,000 each year in the ordinary conduct of the Government, which is more than the combined expenditures of all the States It is surely time the people should bestir themselves in this matter, for every one of them is compelled to pay Federal taxes on almost everything be buys for consumption or other use, whether he owns property subject to State and

PROF. T. LESCHETIZEY.

Vienna June 14, 1910.

Messrs. Wm. Knabe & Co. have given me the pleasant opportunity of becoming acquainted with a splendid instrument from their renowned by permitting me to examine their Migmonette Grand. This unusually small instru-ment has an astonishing fullness of tone and a ravishing sweetness, particularly in the high register. The mechanism reproduces the finest and most intimate intention of the player and its outward graceful form is in accordance with modern demands.

has alguays been the recipient of highest encombums from those great musicians who represent the World's Wim Rnabe & Con.
